In the 2021-2022 program year at Rainey, our staff, faculty, and hundreds of Rainey kids were focused on Leaving Our Mark. As our programs relaunched in the post-pandemic year, we were provided with the opportunity to re-introduce Rainey to our community, and leave a lasting impression in every interaction with young artists, their families, and our partners. With a new set of arts education pillars to guide programs, a new strategic plan underway, and a new location on Cleveland’s west side in the making, 2021-2022 was an extraordinary year.

We are delighted to share with you how our vision and our programs left their mark – in our neighborhoods, on Cleveland families, and in students’ lives – during this exciting time for Rainey. We grew program offerings in the visual and performing arts that are Positive & Affirming; Educational & Creative; Inventive & Innovative; Well-Designed & Executed; and of course, Culturally & Community Connected. As always, we focused our efforts on the belief that aspiring young artists throughout Cleveland should have access to a high quality arts education, and we committed to decreasing the common barriers our families may face in that pursuit. And, we provided a safe, inclusive and positive environment at our arts education center in Hough and everywhere we delivered programs in the Cleveland community, allowing young people to grow through arts exploration, mastery, and the nurturing support of teaching artists.

At Rainey, we are a big family of people all dedicated to developing youth into well-rounded individuals through the visual and performing arts. Our creative and transformative outcomes you will read about in this report are all thanks to our Rainey kids, dedicated teaching faculty, the families we serve, and supporters and partners who make our work possible. Thank you for Leaving Your Mark with us.

2032 Strategic Direction

Rainey Institute will provide innovative, high-quality programs that are affordable and accessible, targeting youth 18 and under in Greater Cleveland. Our diverse mix of funding sources will support us in operating in multiple locations with the right technology so that we can grow and serve an increasing number of youth. Our focus on Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) will support us in recruiting and retaining high quality staff and faculty who reflect the communities that we are serving. Rainey’s success will reflect: our capabilities in providing both exploratory and mastery-based arts education; our capacity to connect students to continuing education and/or careers; and our provision of links to partner agencies who can support students who are dealing with a wide range of life issues. As a result, Rainey will be well known and highly regarded in both the arts community and the community at large.

2022-2025 Strategic Goals

01. Programs
Evolve the program portfolio & develop a rubric that drives the provision of high-quality, nurturing programming across all art disciplines to the identified priority age groups & skill levels of students.

02. Workforce
Develop workforce & governance initiatives that apply DEI principles to attract & retain the community’s best talent for our Board, leadership, and faculty.

03. Facilities
Establish & implement a site & technology plan to guide Rainey’s physical space expansion & renovation & the acquisition of needed technology.

04. Funding
Identify & grow a diversified base of funding that will provide the financial resources for our expanding portfolio of high-quality programming.

Rainey Institute thanks our Strategic Planning Committee and Kantor Consulting Group for the development of this strategic plan.
2021-2022 marked the official return to in-person programs from virtual and hybrid programming. We were thrilled to introduce new programs, re-design favorites, expand partnerships and grow enrollment.

2021-2022 Highlights

STAGES
In Fall 2021, Rainey launched the STAGES program, a triple-threat performing arts program that includes various dimensions of stage performance such as drama, dance, vocal performance, performance poetry, and public speaking; as well as studio recording and the behind-the-scenes work of stage production, writing, directing, and producing.

DIGITAL ARTS
Incorporating technology into our programs has been a priority for Rainey since the COVID-19 pandemic required us to deliver virtual programs. Digital Arts now spans across programs, including stop motion animation, photo and film editing, and green screen techniques in Visual Arts, and music production and recording in our El Sistema program. As we continue incorporating technology into our programs, it is our hope that these skills will serve students both personally and professionally as they grow older.

CIVIC CIRCLES
In honor of 2022's Summer Camp theme "Leaving Your Mark," Rainey staff implemented a new aspect of camp called Civic Circles. During Civic Circles, campers worked together in groups with various community-based partners to identify community needs, brainstorm ways to help address those needs, and plan service-learning projects to lead and complete during camp. Many public servants, including Mayor Bibb, came to speak to campers about the impact of youth civic engagement!
GLISSANDO PAR-TEE

Each year, Rainey hosts our annual benefit, Glissando, to gather our donors, sponsors, and partners and raise critical funding for our arts education programs. In May 2022, Glissando was held at Topgolf Cleveland, where corporate teams and friends of Rainey enjoyed an afternoon of golf, teambuilding, and good will to Cleveland kids. MAI Capital Management presented the event, and County Executive Chris Ronayne was recognized as our 2022 Honoree. It was a Par-Tee!

ART ADVENTURES

Another re-designed element of Rainey’s after school program launched in Fall 2021 was Art Adventures. Rather than choosing a mastery track in music, visual arts, dance, or drama, Rainey Kids in grades K through 2 immerse themselves daily in all the art forms as part of this exploratory program. Every day, these younger students participate alongside the mastery track 3rd through 8th graders, learning from them and gaining foundational skills while they imagine what art forms they’ll pursue once they reach 3rd grade.

SHOWCASES

At Rainey, performance is part of the learning process! In December, May, and August, Rainey’s Debra Ann November Theater and Robert and Jean Conrad Gallery came to life to exhibit the creative culminations of our programs. From orchestra concerts, to monologues, to step routines and gallery displays, Rainey Kids got the chance to show their work to family and friends. A select group even got to perform at the Cleveland Monsters game for a sold-out crowd on Cleveland Rocks Night!
Making Memories

"Art helps me to create my own worlds. The arts have always been something that help me get through things. Ever since I was a child, I create art to calm down and because it's fun."
— Rainey Kid

"Rainey makes children shine and brings out their creative greatness."
— Rainey Parent

"Rainey truly is a one of a kind magical place, a unicorn if you will, leaving its mark on our family!"
— Sandra Millard, Rainey Parent

"Creating art is important to me because it means I get an outlet to show who I am and express the way I feel through my art form."
— Rainey Kid

Rainey Donors Leave their Mark

How Sheila Bechert helped Rainey to RYSE

Sheila Bechert first reached out to Rainey Institute in partnership with Jiggs Whigham, a renowned jazz musician from South Euclid and her Brush High School classmate. Jiggs came to Rainey in 2019 to introduce jazz to our El Sistema Orchestra students in East Cleveland, and Sheila's first gift to Rainey was part of an effort to provide Rainey kids with "pbuzz" instruments—trumpets and horns made of plastic to help get children playing jazz instruments at a low cost.

Sheila's conversations with our Arts Education Director grew deeper over time, and her love of jazz music combined with Rainey's needs and growth was at the center of a new idea: a Rainey Jazz Ensemble.

Over the course of three years, Sheila's giving enabled the exploration, design, and implementation of a new Rainey program: the RYSE Ensemble! RYSE (Rainey Youth for Symphonic-Social Elevation) Ensemble unites student-musicians from throughout Cleveland in a popular music ensemble and immersive civic engagement experience that deepens their music education.

"The RYSE Ensemble is a testament to how responsive Rainey is to the ideas and intentions of donors, while meeting needs of the community," says Sheila. "This is the WHY behind my giving to Rainey--of course it is their mission, and at Rainey I know my giving leads to a mission accomplished!"

You can leave your mark at Rainey through a legacy gift

The Grace Rainey Rogers Legacy Gift Society recognizes our donors who make a gift in their will, a trust, or another deferred giving strategy. This society is named for Eleanor B. Rainey's daughter, Grace Rainey Rogers, who became one of the 20th century's most notable arts philanthropists and gave Rainey's first legacy gift of $200,000 in 1943. Legacy gifts of all sizes to Rainey Institute's endowment at the Cleveland Foundation are an important investment in our future, and allow your commitment to arts education to live on.

For more information on setting up a legacy gift and becoming a member of the Grace Rainey Rogers Legacy Gift Society, please contact Executive Director Jennifer Harris at jharris@raineyinstitute.org.
A Rainey in every neighborhood of Cleveland has been a whisper and a dream among our leaders and the community for many years. In Fall 2021, after receiving a transformational gift from the George Gund Foundation and a generous bequest that doubled our endowment, Rainey embarked on our West Side Expansion Campaign. In just one year, Rainey’s staff and board raised over $1 Million through public and private campaign gifts to support our buildout, operations, and programs for our second location in Clark-Fulton.

After more than 100 years in Hough, and with off-site programs located in schools and organizations throughout Cleveland, Rainey Institute has opened a second location on Cleveland’s west side in Clark-Fulton. Our new space at the Pivot Center for Art, Dance, and Expression allows Rainey to expand our program offerings on the west side, form deeper partnerships with schools and the community, and enrich the lives of even more Cleveland youth through engagement and education in the visual and performing arts.

/16/ RAINNEY INSTITUTE
LEAVING OUR MARK 2021-2022
Remembering
RACHEL WAYNE NELSON
a true advocate for arts education

1925 - 2022

Rainey Institute was fortunate to have Rachel Wayne Nelson serving our community as an active member of the Rainey Board of Directors for two decades. We are endlessly grateful for her contributions - she will be forever in our hearts.
“Arts education is critical to the development and expansion of young minds. Rainey provides enriching programs in a safe and nurturing environment where Cleveland’s young learners can express their creativity, feel valued, and build confidence.”

— Cleveland Mayor Justin Bibb
